GREENVILLE.

Annual Meeting of Good Will Bible Class. The meeting of the Year—Enjoyable Supper—Other interests.

The annual election of officers of the Good Will Bible class of the Greenville Congregational church was held Friday evening at the residence of the church, about 30 members of the class being present. At 7.30 a supper was served under the direction of the entertainment committee.
Charles B. Meech, chairman, and was prepared by Bernard R. Tilly. There were two courses, the first being of ham, rolls, celery and coffee. Rev. C.
Ricketts made an opening prayer and at the close a vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Tilly for one of the most enjoyable suppers in the history of the society.

Following the supper, the business meeting was held. President Gilchrist presiding. Secretary and Treasurer A.
Montgomery read the report for the past year. The reports showed that the total attendance during the past year was 1,025, the average per Sunday being 32. William Finlayson was the only member perfect in attendance during the entire year of 52 Sundays. Charles Grover was present 49 times and E. H.
Brown 48 times. The financial report was very satisfactory.

The following officers were then elected: President, Charles E. Grover; vice president, Paul H. Zahn; teacher, sistant secretary, William C. Sempie; tee, William Finlayson, Archibald Gilchrist; membership committee, Joun McNeely. The reception committee will be appointed by the president.

President Grover took the chair and made a brief speech, urging the members of the society to work to make the coming year the most successful year of the society. Vice president, Mr. Zahn, also spoke, and Mr. Ricketts followed, speaking of the moral influence of the class, of its help to the pastor and its impression over the whole Sunday school when the younger people see their fathers and older brothers gathered together for prayer and study. The officers of the meeting of ministers of Norwich the work of the Good Will Bible class was especially commended.

In closing Mr. Ricketts expressed his

After the business session came a social hour, when several of the members gave recitations and songs. A discussion about holding an entertainment led to the appointment by the president of the following committee to investigate the matter: B. R. Tilly, A. Montenegro and P. A. Zahn. They will report at a later meeting.

It was voted that hereafter the annual meeting of the class will be held on the Friday after the second Monday in January.

which he gained a thorough knowledge of by a visit to Ellis Island.

SELECTING JURY FOR MURDER TRIAL

Two of the Twelve have Been Chosen—Elmer Chapman Found Not Guilty—Viney Malady Released from Jail on Bail—Hattie Thayer Leaves New London.

When the superior court came in Friday morning the case of the state vs. Elmer Chapman was continued, and the cross-examination of Miss Laura Burrows, the prosecutrix, was continued. Others who testified for the state were James Cahoon, Herman C. Main, Mrs. Mary E. Knowles
and H. E. Draper.

For the defense there were called Isaac Williams, Charles W. Hewitt, Horace H. Main and W. L. Sloum. The jury, selected to try the case, was called to the box at 10 o'clock.

In his own behalf, Chapman denied the theft absolutely. He told of working for Miss Main at different times for years, and made his home there when not working elsewhere.
Arguments were made by Attorneys Burrows, Douglas and Holl, after which Judge Wheeler charged the jury and they retired at 4 o'clock.

Chapman Found Not Guilty.
At 4.45 the jury returned and through Foreman John B. Smith gave a verdict of not guilty. "I thank the jury," remarked Chapman, with a broad smile, and he immediately left the court room, accompanied by his friends and attorney, the former rushing to him and slapping him on the back.

Two Jurors Selected.
After the jury retired to consider the Chapman case the selection of a jury for the trial of John Bogardus for first degree murder was commenced.
John Bogardus, a former soldier, charged with the murder of Dyer Copeland in the latter's barn in New London Sept. 12, and William Kiley, the New London young man charged with being an accessory, were brought here Friday morning from the New London jail by Sheriff Sidney Brown and were in the prisoners' pen in the court room.

Brookins and Kiley, looking better if anything than they did when they were sent to the jail last fall, chatted freely and laughed as though going to church picnic instead of to court to face a murder charge.

Prosecuting Attorney Charles B.
Whitney of the New London police court, who acted in these cases in the lower court, was on hand to assist State's Attorney Hull and Attorney Clayton B. Smith, and Attorney J. C.
Geary, who are to defend Bogardus, and Attorney R. P. Freeman, who appeared for Kiley, in court.

William R. Palmer of Griswold, farmer and school teacher. He knew nothing about the killing of Dyer Copeland, but he knew that the man pursued and had no part in the murder and has no particular ideas regarding circumstantial evidence and never served in a murder trial.

Ralph H. Fillmore, a resident here forty to fifty years, a former policeman and blacksmith. He is not opposed to capital punishment or circumstantial evidence if strong enough. He is 81, with good hearing. He never served in a murder trial and is not opposed. He was excused by the defense.

Georgey Cleishardt is very hard of hearing and was excused by the court.

First Juror.
Samuel S. Palmer of Griswold knew nothing of the Copeland murder. He has no conscientious scruples against capital punishment or sufficient circumstantial evidence. He doesn't believe in liquor and has more pity than prejudice.

In the murder case of state vs. Donovan, when a man named Bell was killed in New London. He was accepted for juror No. 1.

SOLITUDE OF ABRAHAM LINCOLN.
Former Editor of Bulletin Writes on

Edward J. Edwards, at one time editor of the Bulletin, had a page article in last Sunday's Times regarding the solitude of Abraham Lincoln. Returning on his trip into Connecticut during his campaign, the article reads:

At the Norwich meeting Lincoln and Governor Buckingham met for the first time. They were to meet many times during Lincoln's presidency, and were friends to the end. The officers of the year were: President, Archibald Gilchrist; vice president, Charles E.
Grover; secretary and treasurer, A. A.
Montenegro; entertainment committee, Charles H. Ricketts; visiting committee, William Finlayson, Archibald Gil-

READY TO PLASTER.
Court House Addition is Being Heated.

The plumbing in the court house addition has been secured a point where it is possible to heat the addition from the boilers in the main building, and this is being done at the present time. As the weather is so cold the workmen will start plastering which will be today or Monday.
The delay in the installation of the heating apparatus has prevented the completion of the addition by this time. It will require six weeks for the contractor to finish his work, plastering and putting in the floors and doors and remaining woodwork. The heating of the addition takes the two boilers and additional ones will be required for the annex.

NO ONE COULD LIFT

THE 300 POUND SACK.

Eight Made an Effort to Get the $50,
But Did Not Succeed.

Friday night at Shesdy's theater was the time announced for any heavy weight lifter of this city to attempt to lift the sack of this city, which was weighing 300 pounds, which Alfred Apollo saw several times a day in the course of his exhibitions, and the expectation of the local men try to lift the theater to the doors, to the vestibule and even out into the street. By the time the trials were taken place in the first performance the management had stopped selling tickets and it was impossible to get into the theater.

There were numerous aspirants for the $50, and all furnished the rarest kind of entertainment for the wildly applauding crowd as they tugged and sweated at the sack without coming anywhere near getting it off the stage.
Six men made a try at the sack and two later on. The first set to make the attempt were Zimmond Oloff, Patrick Connel, John Bolan, Charles Martin, Michael J. Kelly and Sam Austin.
Most of them took their cue from the professor and tried to tip the sack over onto their back as they lay on the floor.
Mr. Kelly displayed a new move by bringing a chair into the game, getting the sack into the seat of the chair and from there trying to get it on his back, but without success. In some cases one of the Apollo boys put the sack on top of a man on the floor, which invariably planned the victim fast and immovable. At the second performance Dan Capra, a local basketball pitcher, and William Nolan tried to lift off the sack, but without success.
Marra smashed a chair into kindling wood in his efforts, and Nolan was nailed to the floor when Apollo put the sack on his back. Any aspirant lifting to be given another chance tonight.
